

Monticello's Future Citizens Presented in Pictures

The future citizens of Monticello and the surrounding community are on parade—pictures of boys and girls of this vicinity which were taken some time ago and which have been made available to The Messenger through an arrangement with the photographers.

Beginning this week with pictures of six boys and girls of the community, the pictures will be published each week until all of the 51 separate photographs have appeared in The Messenger. The series is expected to continue for about eight weeks.

The 51 photographs of local youngsters comprise 66 boys and girls, nearly all of which are singles, although they range up to a group of five smiling kids.

A pleasing set of photographs, they range from a young man of a few months to a smiling set of twin boys. Appearing in our initial showing are:

Top row—Karen and Nancy, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kubly.

Second row—The smiling young lady at the left is Sandra Burgi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Burgi, while the lady at the right is Beverly Voegeli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Voegeli.

Bottom row—The young man at the left with the beaming smile is Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. W. Marty, while the gent to his right is Edward Riese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riese.

More Children of Community in Pictures

This week The Messenger presents six more boys and girls of the community in pictures. The picture series, embracing 51 separate photographs, will continue for about six more weeks. Pictures are:

Top row—The smiling young lady at the left is Loretta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Schmid, route 2, Monticello. In the center photo is Karen Gempeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gempeler, route 2, Monticello. The young lady at the right is Anna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Marty, route 2, Monticello.

Bottom row—The smiling young sailor at the left needs no introduction. He is Marty Smith, son of Petty Officer 2-c and Mrs. Forrest D. Smith, Monticello. The curly head in the center is Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Luchsinger, Monticello; while the lady at the right is Ruth Legler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Legler, route 2.

More Children of Community in Pictures

This week we present the third in our series of boys and girls of Monticello and the surrounding community. They are as follows:

Top row—At the left are Roger and Ruth Ann, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Baebler, Monticello. The group of smiling youngsters in the center are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Blankenhorn. Back row, Bobby; middle row, Billy; front row, Beverly, Gary and Ronald. At the right in the top row are John and Marlene Holdrich, children of Mrs. Lorena Holdrich.

Bottom row—Nancy and John Burgy, children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Burgy, are at the left. The young man in the center, incidentally the baby of the entire group of over 60 youngsters, apparently isn't particularly interested whether his picture is being taken or not. He is Terry, son of S-Sgt. and Mrs. Karl Freitag. He has never seen his dad, who is "over there" and expects soon to be home following a good job done in France and Germany. At the right are John and Wanda Kay, children of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Harden, Monticello.

More Children of Community in Pictures

And the children of the community pass in review. This week we present the four in a series of boys and girls of the community.

Top row—The set of smiling twin boys at the left are Calvin and Alvin (or Alvin and Calvin—you tell us), sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Strahm, route 2, Monticello. The plump young lady in the center photo is Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marty, route 1, Monticello, while the young lady at the right is Judith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Daly, Monticello.

Bottom row—The young man at the left is Bobby, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight J. Zweifel, Monticello. The lady in the center is Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Escher, Monticello, while the gay youngster at the right with the broad grin and sparkling eyes is Shirley's brother, Billy.

More Children of Community in Pictures

Another set of pictures of Monticello and surrounding community children passes in review. This week we feature the following:

Top row—The smiling young man at the left is Danny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Benkert, Monticello. In the center picture is Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wirth, Monticello, and the lad at the right is Ernest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gempeler, route 1, Monticello.

Bottom row—At the left is Sandra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Schwers, Monticello, while the young man in the center is Sandra's brother, Elwood. At the right, sporting a broad grin, is Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight J. Zweifel, Monticello.

More Children of Community in Pictures

This week The Messenger presents the sixth group in a series of pictures of boys and girls of the Monticello area. This week's picture celebrities are:

Top row—At the left are Gail and Jerry Wittenwyler, children of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wittenwyler, Monticello. In the center is Roland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ritschard, route 2, Monticello, while at the right are Marlise and Bob, sister and brother of Roland. Bottom row—The young ladies at the left are Ronda and Rosanda, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roswell S. Richards, Monticello. Pictured in the center photo are Nickie and Lizette, children of Mrs. Nic. Rieder, Monticello. The smiling group at the right are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klassy, route 2, Monticello—Robert in the back row and Mary and Donald in front.

More Children of Community in Pictures

This week The Messenger presents the seventh in its series of pictures of boys and girls of Monticello and the surrounding community. Photos this week are as follows:

Top row—The smiling Miss at the left is Darlyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Elmer, Monticello. Striking a happy pose in the center photo is Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kubly, route 1, Monticello. The plump little lady at the right is Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Holcomb, route 2, Monticello.

Bottom row—At the left in the bottom group is Doran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Blum, New Glarus, formerly of Monticello, while the young lady in the center is Carla, Doran's sister. Pictured at the right is Elmer, son of Mr. and Mr. Luther Lemon, route 2, Monticello.