

JOHN W. STEINMANN

Jan. 29, 1914 - Jan. 3, 1987

John W. Steinmann, 72, 1922 11th St., Monroe, died Saturday, Jan. 3, 1987, at Methodist Hospital, Madison.

Born Jan. 29, 1914, in Monticello, he was the son of John C. and Martha (Linehan) Steinmann.

He received a bachelor's degree in architecture at the University of Illinois in 1935.

He married the former Irene M. Steil, Nov. 24, 1940. She died Oct. 27, 1969. He later married Patricia A. Stovall, Dec. 22, 1972, at St. Victor's Catholic church in Monroe.

Mr. Steinmann was an architect in the Monticello area for 31 years and then moved to Seattle, Wash., where he continued to practice for eight years before retiring to Monroe in 1983. Mr. Steinmann was the architect on many projects in this area.

He was a member of alpha Rho Chi, St. Victor's Catholic Church, a member of the American Institute of Architecture and he served as village president of Monticello from 1939 to 1940.

A veteran of World War II, he served with the Corps of Engineers.

Survivors include his wife, Patricia; one son, John C. Steinmann, Kirkland, Wash; two step-sons, James H. Stovall, Havertown, Pa, and William G. Stovall, Boxbell, Wash.; one daughter, Mrs. Jack (Jo Rene) Jezwinski, Franklin, Tenn.; one brother, Howard Steinmann, Studio City, Cal.; three grand-children and six step-grandchildren.

Besides his first wife, he was preceded in death by one sister, Jane, in infancy.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at Stuessy Funeral Home and at 11 a.m. At St. Victor's Church with the Rev. Laurence Kieffer of Madison officiating and the Rev. Roger Nilles as assistant. Burial will be in Highland Cemetery, Monticello.